Dr. Susan Biali, MD web site design, web site hosting

Susan Biali lives her dream as an inspiring, internationally recognized writer, speaker, life coach, and flamenco dancer. As a published writer that has appeared internationally in print, radio, television, and film media, she required a comprehensive web presence that reflected her professionalism, her work, and her spirit.

Using an integrated Content Management System (CMS), Susan is able to add new blog posts, images, articles, press and media information, and comments to her web site - easily, and when she wants. Not only does this let her communicate with her audience, it lets her audience communicate with her.

"Steve Clark has been a huge blessing to me and my business. He created a custom website that looks better than I could have ever imagined, and best of all, he designed it so that I can easily update almost every aspect of it myself, instantly. And since my site went live, he's been available to help me with any challenges or modifications that I can't handle on my own. It's a miracle that I found him here in Los Cabos, I still can't quite believe my luck!" - Susan Biali, M.D. www.susanbiali.com

MMUSA, Inc. computer & network support, internet marketing, website administration

MMUSA Inc. is a long-standing client of mine, and have looked after most of their technical needs since 2001. MMUSA came into being as the first company in the world to transform the creatine monohydrate into a stable, soluble state named Creatine Phosphate Complex[®]. Dr. Amir Zeibak, Founder and CEO of MMUSA has set out to share this discovery with fellow sportsmen and women; a safe, unique and effective alternative to solid supplements.

Providing technical support to MMUSA offices in Canada, USA, Europe, and South America for over 7 years, I am able to offer direct support to Amir and his staff using the latest advancements in remote support functionality. Regardless of their location in the world, I can provide "hands on" technical support via internet connectivity, and am able to quickly and efficiently handle more than 95% of their computer and network support needs.

Mexcana Realty real estate web site design, internet marketing, website administration, web site hosting

Mexcana Realty approached me with some very specific needs: a real estate web site that looks good, ranks well in search engines, and allows Agents to add, modify, and delete listings. They also required the ability to archive listings, run reports, spotlight listings, run promotions, and local MLS integration.

All these objectives were met - on time and on budget. All Mexcana agents have individual accounts that allow them to create listings, upload photos, and modify listing information - simply and easily. Listings that are published quickly and regularly ensure maximum exposure to their audience, which results in faster sales.

real estate web site design, internet marketing, website administration, web site hosting, onsite support

RE/MAX was my first client in Los Cabos after relocating here in 2006, and they remain one of my favorites clients today ! Like all real estate web sites I create, RE/MAX Los Cabos enjoys features such as high search engine ranking, excellent usability, featured listings, and the ability for agents to easily add/modify listings. I still actively work for RE/MAX Los Cabos, including the exciting Faldas de la Alcazaba development here in San Jose del Cabo.

After initial development of their real estate website, we have focussed strongly on internet marketing to ensure the RE/MAX Los Cabos website is at the top of search engine results for sites such as Google and Yahoo. There has been a steady increase in traffic since I began this marketing project, and since they hit the top 5 in Google for some very competitive keywords, the traffic numbers have tripled! RE/MAX Los Cabos understands that more traffic = more business.
